

Weddings

"Blessed is the bride that the rain rains on" runs the old German proverb. "For her there will be no tears in the wedded years." So the brides of yesterday were most blessed, for the rain rained on them more or less intensely through the afternoon and early evening. Sunshine makes a deal of difference in the face of the world, as in the face of a friend, but yet perhaps in the gladness and mirth of yesterday, the sunshine was not so much missed. It takes a lot of rain to spoil a wedding, and there was no spoiled wedding in the day that has just passed.

FULLER-POWELL.

The Second Presbyterian church was the scene of two exceptionally brilliant weddings, the details of each being utterly different from the other, and yet each having marked features of artistic taste.

The first was the marriage of Miss Bertha Lorena Powell, daughter of Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. D. W. Powell, to Frank Carling Fuller, private secretary of C. D. Simpson. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock and began amid heavy downpour of rain. The church was filled with a large company of the leading society people of the city. The decorations were exceedingly elaborate and included ropes and borders of mountain laurel in blossom, the delicate pink of the flowers melting softly into the glossy green. The bridesmaids walked up the outer aisles, meeting the bride at the rear of the church and proceeding to the altar from the center aisle, where they met the groom and best man and the ushers. The procession was most effective. It would be difficult to select a group of lovelier girls and the costume made indeed a fair picture. The bride wore a charming gown of white embroidered chiffon over chiffon and satin, with rare point lace adorning the bodice. A veil fell from head to feet, and made an exquisite picture of the bride. She wore a diamond spray, the gift of the groom, and carried white roses.

The maid of honor was the bride's young sister, Miss Helen Powell, who was like nothing so much as a sweet June rose, in her pink chiffon and lace. She wore a picture hat of pink chiffon, and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Bunell, Miss Anne Hand, Miss Louderberg, of New York, and Miss Gertrude Sprague. Unusually attractive girls they were, never fairer than in their white voile frocks, with pink liberty satin sashes and picture hats wreathed under the brim with tiny pink roses. Lace applique and tucks made up the trimming of the pretty dresses, which had touches of pink satin here and there on the bodice. They carried pink roses of graduating shades. The groom of honor, Mr. Pellman, of Bethlehem, wore white satin and carried roses.

The ushers were from among the groom's closest friends. They were Mr. B. Fuller, W. J. Torrey, James Blair, Jr., and Will Powell, brother of the bride. The best man was Theodore Fuller, Rev. Dr. J. H. Odell, pastor of the Second church, performed the ceremony. J. M. Chance played the wedding music.

A reception followed, at the handsome home of the bride's parents, on Linden street. The rooms were lavishly decorated by Marvin & Muir. Mr. and Mrs. Powell and the bride party received in the front drawing room. Mrs. Powell wore black grenadine and point lace. The occasion was characterized by unusual merriment, the bridesmaids, drawn up in line, suddenly breaking forth with the song "Tell Me Pretty Maiden," as the guests began to arrive, an incident which effectively disposed of all formality. The supper room was all in pink and white and was extremely attractive. Handley catered. The orchestra, stationed in the library alcove, added to the afternoon's pleasure.

Two rooms full of gifts were quite the center of interest. Rare silver, crystal, furniture, china and every possible idea in bric-a-brac seemed to be included, together with checks for substantial amounts.

The bridegroom remarked as one of the most beautiful girls of this region. She is accomplished in many directions. The groom has long been prominently connected with C. D. Simpson's office, and is exceedingly popular in society. They will be at home after September 1, at 1035 Olive street.

STAFF-BIRDSALL.

The marriage of Miss Grace Birdsall, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Birdsall, to Frederick Carroll Staff, of Philadelphia, took place last night at 8 o'clock at the Second Presbyterian church, in the presence of a large company of guests, representing the elite of the city. The chancel was massively banked with palms and presented a most effective appearance. The bride party made a remarkably attractive picture. The bride entered with her father. Her gown was of white satin, made severely plain, but exceedingly graceful in cut and beautiful in design. Much handsome point lace adorned the decoration. She carried white roses. The maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Lamb, of New York, who is a strikingly beautiful girl, wore white lace over pale green, combined with green liberty satin. The bridesmaids wore lovely rose-colored gowns, accented with white mousseline de sole, with white ribbons. They carried huge bouquets of pink roses and made a stunning picture. Each fair maiden wore a pink rose in her hair. They were: Miss Isabel Birdsall, of Honesdale; Miss Edith Pelster, of Philadelphia; Miss Louise Matthews and Miss Grace Kierstead, of this city. The best man was William Trappe, of Philadelphia. The ushers were: Dr. John Robb, of Philadelphia; Forrest Powell, of New York; Willard Birdsall, of Honesdale; and Burton Egan, of Scranton.

Rev. Dr. Odell performed the ceremony, and Mr. Chance played the wedding music, which included the "Flower Song" as a preliminary number and the "Internuncio" during the service. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, on Quincey avenue, which was largely attended. The beautiful rooms were adorned by the loving hands of the bride's friends and were abloom with June roses in the greatest profusion. The balustrade of the winding staircase was hidden with laurel, and everywhere were roses, pink and red.

Mr. and Mrs. Birdsall and the bride party were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Margaret Breck, the groom's mother. Mrs. Birdsall wore a handsome gown of yellow satin brocade and real lace. Mrs. Breck wore lavender silk with point lace.

There were gifts to an endless number in the upper rooms, and these, rich and costly as they were, included only a portion of what awaits the bride in her new home. Refreshments were served by Harry.

Mr. Staff is connected with the old National bank of Philadelphia, and while long a resident of the Quaker city, belongs to a distinguished southern family. The bride is a young lady of great charm of personality, unusual intellectuality and much artistic ability. They will occupy their own home in Philadelphia in the near future. It is with regret that the bride's friends relinquish her from their circle.

WARD-JONES.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Edward Jones, in Blakey. It was the marriage of her charming and beloved daughter, Miss Mary Jones, to Frank B. Ward, of Buffalo, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George E. Guild, D. D., assisted by Rev. B. F. Hammond. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jeannette Jones, and the groom by Dr. J. L. Peck. The bride was given away by her brother, Edward S. Jones.

Precisely at 12 o'clock, the bridal party entered the rooms, to the strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Oppenheim's orchestra, of Wilkes-Barre. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chene, cut en traine and trimmed with point lace. She wore a bridal veil, caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a prayer book. Her only ornament was a beautiful diamond crescent, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor, Miss Jeannette Jones, was gowned in pink crepe de chene, trimmed with erud lace, and carried a shower bouquet of pink and white sweet peas, tied with steamers of pink and lavender chiffon. There were no bridesmaids. Following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served at small tables on the wide piazza, after which Mr. and Mrs. Ward left for an extended tour and on their return will make their home at Buffalo.

The residence was beautifully decorated by Marvin & Muir, with large quantities of palms and cut flowers. The stairway was trimmed with laurel and over the doorways smilax was wreathed amidst ferns and tropical plants. The piazza was screened and decorated by Fuhrman.

A large number of guests were present. Among the number out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Tracy, Miss Clara Richmond, Miss Emeline Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. N. Callender, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. W. Coolidge, Mrs. H. B. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Cramer Von Storch, Dr. J. L. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, Mr. J. D. Williams, Miss Louise Williams, Miss Josie Williams, William H. Hull, Miss Edith Hull, Miss Mary E. Hull, Miss Evelyn Jones, Miss Helen Jones, Marshall G. Jones, Miss Grace Callender, Miss Mabel Callender, Miss Jessie Callender, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. J. N. Rice, Mrs. Martin R. Keys, Dr. Walter Fordham, Mrs. Harry Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gillespie, Miss Evelyn Gilmore, Mrs. Louis Gilmore, Mrs. Joshua Williams, Miss Lizette Howell, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lynch, of Scranton; Mrs. John Howell, Miss Louise Farrer, of Pittston; Miss Marie Ryerson, of Mt. Clair, N. J.; Mrs. W. Patterson, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Helen Ferry, of Springfield, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Payne, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Henry M. Ives, of Dalton; Miss Catharine Hunn, of New York city; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jones, of Archbald; Rev. and Mrs. Moon and daughter, Alice, of Peckville.

SHEAN-LEONARD.

Miss Mabel Frances Leonard, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Leonard, and Attorney William F. Shean were united in marriage with a nuptial mass at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, by the rector, Rev. J. A. O'Reilly. The ceremony was a very pretty one and was witnessed by a large throng. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Dorothy McLane, of Dunmore, and the groomsmen were Dr. John T. McGrath and Dr. Walter M. Reedy. The marches were played by the cathedral organist, W. P. Schilling.

The bride's gown was white peau de soie, trimmed with Irish point lace. She wore a crown brooch of pearls and diamonds, the gift of the groom, and carried a prayer book. The maid of honor was attired in point de esprit, over white taffeta, and a Gainsborough hat. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

A reception and breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, on Quincey avenue, was attended only by the immediate relatives and friends. The house was beautifully decorated. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Belle Cross, of Montreal, and Miss Paschal, of Brooklyn, schoolmates of the bride, and Thomas Fayle, of Syracuse, a close friend of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Shean left at 1:50 p. m. for a ten days' wedding tour, which will include visits to Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Toronto and Niagara Falls. On their return they will be at home at 1320 Linden street.

The bride is a young woman of rare beauty and graciousness. She is a graduate of Villa Maria academy, Montreal. Mr. Shean is a prominent young member of the Lackawanna bar, and the editor of the Catholic Light, a weekly publication, which is achieving much success.

MILLER-BURNS.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Holy Rosary church, yesterday morning, when Miss Mary Burns, of Rockwell street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Frank Miller, of Marcy street.

Rev. N. J. McManus, of the Holy Rosary church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Sadie McDavitt, of Cusick avenue, while Martin Walsh attended the groom. The bride was attired in a beautiful white satin gown, trimmed with Parisian lace, and carried a beautiful bouquet of roses. Her attendant was similarly attired.

After the ceremony the bridal party was driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire, of Rockwell street, where the bride resided, and partook of a wedding repast. Mr. and Mrs. Miller were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. The young couple left on the noon train for Philadelphia, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will take up their residence on Marcy street, North Scranton.

CHAMBERLIN-RICE.

With a pretty home wedding last evening, Miss Lulu Rice and Joseph S. Chamberlin were united in marriage by Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, D. D., pastor of the Penn avenue Baptist church. The ceremony was witnessed by a large assemblage of friends, including the members of the Penn avenue Baptist church choir to which the bride belongs, and which rendered appropriate music at the wedding.

The gown was tied beneath an arch of wild flowers intertwined with the Stars and Stripes, and the same scheme was observed in the decorations of the parlors.

Miss Elizabeth F. Suydam was maid of honor and John Chamberlin, best man. The bride and her maid were charmingly attired and carried large bouquets of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin are a well known and highly esteemed young couple. They will be at home at 107 Thompson street, after a brief wedding tour.

GIBBS-MORGAN.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the parsonage of the Jackson street Baptist church, when the pastor, Rev. Thomas deGruchy, officiated in marriage David Gibbs, of Hampton street, and Miss Elizabeth Morgan, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Morgan of North Hyde Park avenue.

The bride looked very pretty in a costume of white point de esprit with lace and ribbon trimmings. Miss Alice Morgan, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and William Gibbs, brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen.

After the ceremony they were driven to the home of the bride where a reception was tendered them. Both the bride and groom are very well known and have a host of friends who wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs left on the 6:50 o'clock train over the Lackawanna road for Binghamton, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, and upon their return will reside on Hyde Park avenue where they will be at home to their friends after July 1.

SPICER-MORAN.

With a pretty ceremony at St. Peter's cathedral, Miss Mary Moran, of Oak street, and J. Wallace Spicer, of Baltimore, were united in marriage on Tuesday morning, by Rev. J. A. O'Reilly. Miss Katherine Moran, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Hugh Moran, cousin of the bride, attended the groom. Margaret Kelly was flower girl.

The bride wore castor crepe duchesse trimmed with blue chiffon and cream applique. The maid of honor was attired in white mousseline de sole trimmed with ribbon and lace. The bride is a handsome and popular young lady. The groom is connected with the Philadelphia Public Ledger. They will spend their honeymoon in Virginia.

SCHNEIDER-EIDEN.

A very pleasing affair took place at St. Mary's church, on River street, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, when Len Eiden and J. W. Schneider, two young and popular residents of South Scranton, were joined in the bonds of matrimony. The church was filled with friends and relatives of the happy couple, and the words that made them man and wife were pronounced by Rev. Father Straub. They were attended by Messrs. J. G. Eiden and Lawrence J. Sheridan, of Pittsburg, Pa., as groomsmen, and the Misses Elizabeth Eiden and Jennie Schneider acted as bridesmaids.

A wedding breakfast was afterwards served at the home of the bride's parents, 726 Stone avenue, and a reception followed. The young couple will begin housekeeping on the West Side.

D. E. MILLER UNDER BAIL.

An Effort to Punish Those Responsible for Chicago Tragedy.

Chicago, June 11.—Every department of the city hall has been set to work and the city is trying to clear itself of the responsibility for the tragedy at the fire of the sanitarium of the St. Luke society here Monday. Today an effort was made to keep O. E. Miller, head of the institution, in custody, but the appearance of the Rev. S. B. Shaw gave him liberty on $5,000 bail.

Early in the day Miller was brought before a justice and was held for manslaughter, while his nine assistants were held for disorderly conduct. Miller applied to Judge Chas. Lea for a writ of habeas corpus, pleading excessive bail and unwarranted detention, but the judge remanded him to the custody of the police, saying that the police had evidence enough to hold him. It was then the Rev. Shaw, a Methodist minister unknown to Miller, entered bail for him.

SCHWAB WILL BUILD CHAPEL.

Bellefonte, Pa., June 11.—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel corporation, in the name of his wife and himself, today announced that he would build a chapel, to cost $65,000, for the Pennsylvania State college. Mr. Schwab's announcement was made at the conclusion of an address to the graduating class and came as a complete surprise to the college authorities. If the cost of the structure exceeds $65,000, Mr. Schwab said he would contribute all money necessary to the completion of the chapel.

AT SCHOOL OF LACKAWANNA

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED TO SIXTEEN GRADUATES.

The Formal Presentation Followed the Class Day Exercises Which Were Conducted Yesterday Afternoon—Address to the Graduates Was Delivered by Rev. Dr. James McLeod Who Urged Them to Quit Themselves Like Men—Class Prophecy and Will Were Read.

Fourteen young men and two young women were graduated from the School of the Lackawanna yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of their friends and relatives.

The class day exercises which preceded the distribution of diplomas were conducted in the school chapel. The back of the stage was banked with laurels in the center of which the numerals "1902" were outlined with red roses. An orchestra furnished music and Charles E. Fish, the principal, acted as chairman.

Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church, offered an opening prayer and the class day programme followed. MacNair Atwater Phillips, son of Superintendent of Public Schools Phillips, delivered the oration. He gave the late President McKinley's memorable Buffalo address, beginning with the epigram "Expectations are the time-keepers of progress" in a forcible, straightforward manner.

Albert S. Freedman read the history of the class recounting many humorous incidents of the school life of its members and James M. Rice made the class prophecy. He pictured himself on the banks of the river Styx receiving his fellow classmates as they were ferried across by Charon and he described their fate. Stanley Edward Dolph read the class will in which he bequeathed the progressiveness, energy, brilliancy and other things which it had manifested to the class of 1903.

DR. McLEOD'S REMARKS.

Rev. Dr. James McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered a brief address to the graduates. He repeated the Greek original of I Corinthians 16:2, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong." He based his remarks on this text.

"Virtue and manliness," said he, "were born on the same day. They are twins. There can be no manliness where there is no virtue. I would have you remember that throughout your life. The great virtues, truthfulness, temperance, and J. Wallace Spicer—all these are embodied in manliness. Godliness is a virtue, too. It is the sum total of all virtue and an essential part of true manliness. . . . We have no right to expect either personal or national prosperity apart from personal or national virtue."

The doctor referred to the greatness of Greece and Rome and said that those nations were great only when virtuous men were in power. Rome was great in the days of Cincinnatus, Marcus Aurelius, and the elder Scipio, but when her manhood and womanhood became debased she fell. "This teaches us," he said, "to beware lest Ichabod should be written upon the brow of this nation and lest its glory should depart."

THE MANLY THING.

"Quit yourselves like men," he continued. "It is a manly thing to work. Remember that. It is also an unmanly thing to prevent honest men from working as being doing today through the valley. God pity those men who are so un-American and un-Christian as to prevent honest men from earning a living by honest toil."

The exercises were closed with the presentation of diplomas by Principal Fish. The members of the graduating class were as follows: Miss May Logan, Miss Henrietta Harris, Arthur C. Florey, Albert S. Freedman, Burton G. Mors, Atherton Bowen, Homer C. Rice, John F. Kelly, Stanley E. Dolph, M. A. Phillips, Howard F. Frothingham, Harold L. McAkie, Ernest L. Coolidge, Joseph L. Alexander, Paul K. Holgate and Harry A. Loan.

QUIET AT ROANOKE.

Roanoke, Va., June 11.—The following statement regarding the situation in the Pocahontas coal fields was furnished the Associated Press today by the general officers of the Norfolk and Western railroad.

"Our advice are to the effect that there are quite as many men at work in the mines today as on yesterday, which indicates that the force at work is at least 20 per cent. of the full number. Everything is quiet throughout the district. Only a few men are now about the fields who are actually on strike. A number of the men are still there who are not participating in the strike and large numbers have left the field during the past two days to avoid becoming involved in the strike. These men are all expected to return to work as soon as all the mines are in operation."

"There is little or no work being done in the Tug River field. The Thacker and Clinch Valley fields are still working full forces with but little indication, if any, that there will be a stop-up in these districts. The stories being sent out from some of the mining towns that quantities of ammunition and great numbers of Winchester are being sent into the fields are misleading in many respects. The men placed at the tunnels and bridges along the railroad to guard against violence are always armed and at the present time they have been reinforced in numbers. There has been no intimidation, but the strike agitators are still doing all they can to get the men to quit work. About 150 cars of coal will be loaded today."

Not a Statue Yet.

The other afternoon when President Roosevelt reached Dupont Circle, a "seeing" party of the city was in the city. The guide, the guide conducted his lecture through a megaphone in this way: "On the left we see the elegant residence of George Washington, the millionaire inventor and electrician, formerly the home of the late James G. Blaine; a little to the left of front we perceive the palatial mansion of Mr. L. Z. Letter, the Chicago millionaire, and father of the famous beauty, Miss Mary Letter, now Lady Curzon, the wife of the governor general of India; in the park in front we are confronted by the statue of Admiral Dupont, and also in front we see the president of the United States on horseback." The crowd looked, and one woman said: "Whose statue is it—McKinley's?" "It's Roosevelt," the guide responded. "He ain't a statue yet."—Troy Times.

THE TRIBUNE'S Liberal Offer to Subscribers

By a special arrangement with the publishers of the Cosmopolitan Magazine and the Woman's Home Companion, THE TRIBUNE is able to offer these two high-class magazines to any person who is a subscriber to THE TRIBUNE for one year each for the small sum of $1.25.

Cosmopolitan Magazine (one year).....$1.00
Woman's Home Companion (one year)..... 1.00
$2.00

The Tribune Offers the Two for $1.25

Everybody buys one or more magazines each month—probably a great many of THE TRIBUNE's readers are buying one or both of these, as they are among the leading and most popular of literary publications. This offer gives you an opportunity to save seventy-five cents, simply because you are a subscriber to THE TRIBUNE.

To Paid-Up Subscribers

THE TRIBUNE places only one restriction on this offer. A subscriber's subscription must be paid to the current month, as it would be manifestly unfair to expect THE TRIBUNE to forward subscription money to these publications while THE TRIBUNE's account remains unpaid.

A subscriber whose subscription is paid has but to hand $1.25 to THE TRIBUNE and he will receive the two magazines each month for one year.

To Non-Subscribers

You can avail yourself of this offer by simply ordering THE TRIBUNE, to be paid for at the regular rate of 50 cents per month. You can then secure the two magazines by paying $1.25.

To Subscribers Who Wish To Pay for The Tribune in Advance

You can save a lot of money by paying for THE TRIBUNE in advance. If you have been paying by the month or at the end of the year, and wish to pay for THE TRIBUNE a year in advance, you can get THE TRIBUNE, THE Cosmopolitan and the Woman's Home Companion, each for one year, for $6.25, just 25 cents more than you have been paying for THE TRIBUNE alone.

To Contestants in The Tribune's Educational Contest

You should explain this liberal offer to those you ask to subscribe for THE TRIBUNE. If they will pay you $1.25 in addition to the price of THE TRIBUNE they will receive these two magazines one year. Sample copies of the magazines will be furnished you free. Here are the prices, where THE TRIBUNE subscription is paid in advance:

THE TRIBUNE one month and the magazines one year..... $1.75
 THE TRIBUNE three months and the magazines one year..... 2.50
 THE TRIBUNE six months and the magazines one year..... 3.75
 THE TRIBUNE one year and the magazines one year..... 6.25

Those wishing to take advantage of this offer should hand their money to THE TRIBUNE at once and their subscriptions will commence with the first number of the magazines published after the subscription is received.
